Woman Is Removed to Emergency Hospital When Overcome at Film Production.

SHE BECOMES UNCONSCIOUS

McDonald Declares She Seemed in State "Produced by Hypnotic Action."

an one be hypnotized by a motion

Many claims have been made for the "movies." but even Hugo Munsterberg, the eminent psychologist, who has been writing about them for the magazines.

did not go that far.
But Washington has a case of a young woman who went to see "Trilby." now running at the Leader Theater, on Ninth street, who was overcome by a strange illness while there, which later was pronounced by Dr. McDonald, of the Emergency Hospital staff, to have been "probably produced by hypnotic action."

It happened in this way. Miss Frankie at the Gayety Theater, was watching the production of "Trilby." She was excused from the matinee performance because she felt a "little dizzy." She went to see the film production of "Trilby." while persons near her found she had come unconscious.

She was removed to the Emergency RED CROSS TO GIVE

Dr. McDonald said she seemed to be in a state "probably produced by hyp-notic action." and he could get her out of it only by the use of a hypodermic needle. One facetious policeman sug-grested that another "movie" might bring her out of the trance. But hav-ing no data about hypnotism produced by inanimate causes, Dr. McDonald thought the hypodermic the surest method.

method.

Today Miss Rice said she always has been interested in mesmerism, and she has studied occult manifestations of that nature.

"I remember, while I was looking at the film, which deals with hypnotism, of feeling a throbbing at the base of my brain," said Miss Rice. "I tried to ask a woman next to me to take me from the theater, but I was unable to make her understand me."

The question discussed today among those who heard of the incident is whether the pictured Svensail hypnotized one of the audience as well as the "Triby" of the screen. Others him that the incident is the latest psychic manifestation of some press agent's vivid sub-conscious imagination.

As a means of stimulating originality in designs for the Red Cross Christmas seal for the 1916 season, the American Red Cross has decided to do what it has the incident is the latest psychic manifestation of some press agent's vivid sub-conscious imagination.

provided for by Congressional appropriation.

Many of the delinquents have made arrangements with the Treasury Department to repay their loans in small installments. Some payments as small as 15 and 110 weekly or bi-weekly are being received and credited on the notes the travelers gave to the relief commission. While a large part of the outstanding indebtedness will be taken care of by this means, the Treasury Department expects to stand a big loss, as many travelers gave fictificus addresses when obtaining Government loans and cannot be traced by Treasury agents.
